

Scilex Holding Company Provides Notice to All Lenders of Short Positions in the Restricted Dividend Shares of Scilex Holding Company

October 4, 2023 4:59 PM EDT

PALO ALTO, Calif., Oct. 04, 2023 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Scilex Holding Company (Nasdaq: SCLX, "Scilex" or "Company"), an innovative revenue-generating company focused on acquiring, developing and commercializing non-opioid pain management products for the treatment of acute and chronic pain, provides notice to all lenders of short positions of restricted shares of Scilex common stock that were part of the previously announced dividend of Scilex common stock then-held by Sorrento Therapeutics, Inc. (OTC: SRNEQ, "Sorrento") to Sorrento equity holders of record as of January 9, 2023.

NOTICE TO ALL LENDERS OF SHORT POSITIONS IN RESTRICTED DIVIDEND SHARES OF SCILEX HOLDING COMPANY

On December 30, 2022, Sorrento announced that its board of directors authorized Sorrento to dividend to Sorrento equity holders of record as of January 9, 2023 an aggregate of 76,000,000 shares of common stock of Scilex that were then-held by Sorrento ("Scilex Dividend Stock"). The Scilex Dividend Stock was distributed on or about January 19, 2023 and since such date has been subject to restrictions on transfer which are currently in place through March 31, 2024. The Scilex Dividend Stock was primarily received by "record holders," or brokers, dealers, banks and other nominees acting as agents for shareholders who are the true "beneficial owners" of the Scilex Dividend Stock.

On February 13, 2023, Sorrento and certain of its related entities (collectively "Debtors"), which did not include Scilex, commenced voluntary proceedings under Chapter 11 of the United States Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas ("Bankruptcy Court"). The Chapter 11 proceedings are jointly administered under the caption In re Sorrento Therapeutics, Inc., et al. ("Bankruptcy Proceedings").

According to Sorrento's estimates, approximately 8.4 million or more shares of Scilex Dividend Stock were deemed to have been sold "short" as of the Payment Date as a result of the "short" positions of the underlying Sorrento common stock. "Naked short" sales or "naked short" positions in any Scilex common stock may constitute a violation of SEC Regulation SHO.

On June 12, 2023, the Official Committee of Equity Securities Holders of the Debtors ("Equity Committee") commenced an adversary proceeding in the Bankruptcy Proceedings by filing a complaint against certain brokerage firms seeking entry of a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction related to the defendants' allowance and facilitation of illegal naked short selling of Scilex Dividend Stock. On June 14, 2023, the Bankruptcy Court entered a temporary restraining order temporarily suspending all short sales of Scilex Dividend Stock and ordering the defendants to provide an accounting of all profits received from the naked short selling of Scilex Dividend Stock and Scilex common stock, including all interest charged to short sellers, no later than five business days after entry of the order. On July 18, 2023, the Bankruptcy Court then granted the joint emergency motion filed by the Debtors and the Equity Committee for an order (i) approving and authorizing the Debtors to consummate an offering of shares of Scilex common stock held by the Debtors, (ii) authorizing entry into settlement agreements with participating record holders of Scilex common stock who opt into a settlement, and (iii) granting related relief. This emergency motion was very successful, resulting in settlements reached with dozens of short sellers and approximately 800,000 Scilex common stock, purchased from the open market, short positions closed or covered.

While certain parties with short positions in the Scilex Dividend Stock ("Short Sellers") settled with the Debtors and Scilex in the Bankruptcy Proceedings as described in the paragraph immediately above, a number of Short Sellers who engaged in illegal naked short selling or violated the terms of the transfer restrictions imposed on the Scilex Dividend Stock did not elect to opt into a settlement. Before taking any further legal action against such Short Sellers, on October 3, 2023, Scilex provided a proposal to those Short Sellers who had not yet closed or covered their respective short positions in Scilex Dividend Stock ("Short Seller Proposal"). As Scilex noted in its October 3, 2023 press release containing the Short Seller Proposal, Scilex believed that since the settlements reached with certain Short Sellers via the emergency motion described above were deemed successful, with no objections from the participating Short Sellers and with widespread support and assistance from such Short Sellers' brokers and/or agents, there should be no further excuses for continuing to hold the short positions in Scilex. Therefore, the Short Seller Proposal allowed those Short Sellers to cover their short positions and avoid any continuing fees, interest, and other expenses associated with any short positions, as well as one last opportunity to accept the terms provided in the Bankruptcy Proceedings in order to obtain a release from Scilex for any claims and causes of action related to naked short selling or other similar market manipulative behavior. On October 3, 2023, Scilex notified all Record Holders of the Short Seller Proposal via email and express mail.

Scilex is now making a similar offer to the lenders of the short positions in Scilex Dividend Stock held by the Short Sellers ("Lender"). Specifically, under this "Lender Proposal," (i) any Lender that requires the immediate return of Scilex Dividend Stock that was loaned to Short Sellers, and (ii) once the applicable Short Sellers have closed out such short positions in the Scilex Dividend Stock, Scilex will provide a release of any claims and causes of action related to naked short selling or other similar market manipulative behavior. Such release will be provided after Scilex receives written confirmation of the above two actions.

Any Lender that wishes to participate in this Lender Proposal can contact Stephen Ma at Scilex (SMA@scilexholding.com). In exchange for accepting this Lender Proposal and engaging in the actions described herein, the Lender shall receive releases from Scilex for any claims and causes of action that Scilex may have relating to naked short selling to the extent of the amount of the short position held by the Short Seller who borrowed the Lender's shares of Scilex Dividend Stock. The Lender should notify the Short Sellers to follow the same procedures outlined in the October 3, 2023 Short Seller Proposal. This Lender Proposal shall commence on October 9, 2023 and continue to and end on October 31, 2023.

THE DEADLINE TO ACCEPT THIS LENDER PROPOSAL IS OCTOBER 31, 2023.

IN CONNECTION WITH ANY STOCK TRANSACTIONS AND THE PROVISION OF ANY RELEASE BY SCILEX CONTEMPLATED UNDER THE LENDER PROPOSAL, THE FOLLOWING RESTRICTIVE LEGEND WILL BE IMPOSED ON SHARES OF SCILEX COMMON STOCK USED TO CLOSE OR COVER THE SHORT POSITION: THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE MAY NOT BE TRANSFERRED, PLEDGED, HYPOTHECATED, LOANED, ENCUMBERED OR OTHERWISE DISPOSED OF WITHOUT THE CONSENT OF SCILEX HOLDING COMPANY (THE "COMPANY") PRIOR TO MARCH 31, 2024.
